TRI-STATE BOULDER DAM WATER POWER PACT FAILS

ARIZONA IN DEFY OF PLANS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 30.—UP—All negotiations looking toward a tri-state compact between Arizona, California and Nevada for division of water and power from the Colorado river under the Boulder dam project were broken off here today by the Arizona Colorado river commission.

The announcement of the rupture was made following a two-day secret meeting of the Arizona commission here, and Attorney General K. B. Peterson was instructed to take the necessary steps to protect Arizona's interests in the matter.

The decision on the part of the Arizona commission to withdraw from negotiations followed receipt of formal notice from Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur that this state had been allotted only 18 percent of the hydro-electric power to be generated at the dam.

This percentage it was held, would deprive Arizona of a large revenue held to be rightly the state's property.

The disagreement announced today centers around the old idea itself—of conflicting rights of California and Arizona.

BERGEN TALKS TO Y.M.C.A. BOYS

Ralph Bergen, general manager of the certain food products company, spoke before the Young Men's Division of the Y. M. C. A. last night on "The Elements of Success." He emphasized work and education as the two main factors of success.

Two members of the Y. M. C. A. and Rev. Carlsson, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., will attend the conference of the Y. M. C. A. of the northern California division, which will be held Sunday in the Hotel Benjamin Franklin at San Mateo. The delegates from the local club will be Willie Hillier and George Baldwin.

Plans for the coming year will be made at the conference.

A dinner preceded last night's meeting. Willie Hillier, president of the club, presided.

Advertising Held Aid By Cigaret Firm

RECORD HERALD, Richmond, Calif.

Am gratified to advise you that the directors of the American Tobacco company, because of the enormous sales growth of Lucky Strike cigarettes, today voted an extra cash dividend of two dollars on each share of common stock. This in addition to regular quarterly dividend of two dollars also voted today. Ability to announce this definite forward step without question registers an emphatic achievement for American newspaper advertising in which you will appreciate the American Tobacco company are demonstrating their confidence. I thank you, James Brown, President.

Hallowe'en Gets Early Start Here

Hallowe'en comes but once a year. So far, so good. But when the youth of Richmond decides that Hallowe'en should be celebrated twice a year—not so good.

Richmond police last night were busy from dark until midnight chasing innumerable gangs of boys and girls who made merrily at the expense of home owners.

Throughout the early hours of the night the police telephone jangled, as irate home owners wanted "something done" about the youngsters who turned off lights, removed gates and tramped down lawns.

And tonight is Hallowe'en and judging from last night's activities, it will be worse than before.

But at midnight tonight, police can breathe a sigh of relief, wipe the sweat from their brows and give thanks that "it's all over until next year."

BANDITS SLAY RAIL EXPRESS OFFICE CLERK

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Two bandits entered the American Railway express office here at 6 p. m. Wednesday night, shot and killed John Ivester, cashier, and escaped in a small touring car.

Ivester was shot when he reached for his gun. W. G. Johnson, an employee of the office was taken to a rear room and tied. The bandits then fired at him but missed.

Police found a pile of currency on the desk and it is unknown whether they obtained any of the express office funds.

Woman In Rum Net Gets Three Years Probation

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A 22-year-old, expectant mother, whose liquor violation case aroused women's clubs when she was sentenced to state's prison, was granted three years probation at a rehearing today.

The girl, Mrs. Thelma Holland, was placed on probation by Superior Judge Walton Wood after pleading guilty to a charge of possessing a still.

Several months ago Mrs. Holland pleaded guilty to the charge of being a keeper of a still. She was sentenced to the state prison for three years.

Her husband, William Holland, and a youthful associate, took all blame and were sent to Folsom penitentiary. Nevertheless, Judge Wilson gave Mrs. Holland a sentence of from one to five years.

Death List In Lake Disaster Increases

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Possibility that sixteen men lost their lives when the steamship Wisconsin foundered in Lake Michigan developed today when Harvey Lyon, pursuer, testified at a federal investigation that he believed that 75 persons were on board.

Lyon said four passengers and 71 crew members left Chicago with the Wisconsin. The four passengers were all that had been accounted for when the pursuer's testimony was received.

KEMBLE RECOVERING

Archie Kemble, owner of a store located on Macdonald avenue near Twenty-third street, is recovering from a sprained right ankle suffered several days ago.

BUY ORDERS ADVANCE STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—UP—Turbulent buying operations today supplanted frenzied selling of the past week on the Stock Exchange. Everybody from John D. Rockefeller, senior, to the small traders who managed to salvage something from the crash sent in buy orders at the opening and kept it up all day with the result that stocks advanced 1 to 30 points.

It was the third largest day in history with sales totaling 10,727,320 shares, compared with 16,410,030 yesterday and 12,840,650 last Thursday. Curb sales totaled 3,809,200 shares against 7,096,300 yesterday.

Tickers ran behind, at the close being more than two hours late on both exchanges.

Few Waters

There were only momentary intervals throughout the day when prices wavered from their upward trend. These brief profit taking periods did not count for new buying kept coming in from all parts of America and from Europe.

The market was consistently strong, gathering confidence as the day wore on. Near the close the bulls staged a sensational demonstration that sent most issues to the heights of the day where they closed.

Two Day Rest

Having seen what appeared to be the end of the period of liquidation in today's market, government of the Exchange belittled themselves of the tired clerks in the brokerage houses and ordered a cessation of activity for two and one half days.

The Stock Exchange will open at noon Thursday and close Friday and Saturday. It will reopen at the usual time Monday, but will close again Tuesday, election day, a legal holiday in New York state.

The Stock Exchange in making the closing announcement made it clear that the reason was to give the clerks a rest. Some of them just at the present moment have been without sleep 48 to 73 hours.

Bankers Agree

The banking pool which has been lending the market support for several days at critical moments concurred with the Stock Exchange governors in their decision to close.

These powerful bankers met to discuss the situation.

45 Motorists Get Light Tags

More than 45 motorists were "tagged" by El Cerrito traffic police last night in a light raid conducted on San Pablo avenue.

The officers halted and examined 75 machines during the raid. Police Chief R. R. Cheek was in charge.

The motorists will appear before Police Judge J. F. Plank next Wednesday night.

Pittsburg Votes Bonds For School

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—Pittsburg voters today went to the polls and voted to issue $200,000 in bonds for the building of a new grammar school. The bond issue carried by a vote of 984 to 35.

The city plans to sell the present grammar school site which is now located close to the business district and to build a new school more removed from the business district.

SLANDER SUIT FILED AGAINST A. PANTAGES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A $250,000 slander suit was filed against Alexander Pantages today by Frederick Taylor Wise, who was a state's witness in the trial in which Pantages was found guilty of attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle.

Wise charged that he was "maliciously" slandered when Pantages accused him of entering into a blackmail conspiracy with Miss Pringle.

The suit was based on a remark allegedly made by the multi-millionaire showman on Aug. 9, the day of the attack, in the presence of police officers and others, as follows:

"He instigated this prosecution against me. It's nothing but a blackmail plot that he and Eunice Pringle have framed me with."

Wise contended that a similar statement was made by Pantages last Thursday at about the close of his trial. Wise testified for the state that he had been passing the theater when he was attracted by the girl's screams and rushed to her aid.

their preparations for his appearance in court Friday when they will ask for a new trial. Their plea was weakened, however, when Mrs. Christina Ulrick, juror, denied that she had said that deputy sheriff Hazel Brown and a juror reenacted the attack scene in the jury room, against which the defense planned to protest.

Rodeo Man Hurt In Car Accident

Joe Alameda of Rodeo was treated at the Cottage hospital last night for a severe cut on his right hand, suffered in an accident yesterday.

While repairing the engine of his car at Rodeo, Alameda in some manner caught his hand on a jagged piece of metal, inflicting a severe cut.

He was given first aid treatment and then brought to the hospital here where he is recovering from the shock and loss of blood.

TOT TIED AS PARENTS STUDY

MODESTO, Oct. 30.—UP—Resignation of Eugene C. Frechman, general science teacher at Modesto high school, was requested today on the charge that he and his wife, Martha, student at Modesto Junior college, had neglected their three year old son.

The demand by John H. Bradley, superintendent of city schools, was immediately acknowledged by the teacher.

Several weeks ago the professors and his student wife were accused of pinning heavy blankets over the child's crib and leaving him in the bed all day while they went to school.

C. H. Ramont, Stanislaus county probation officer, claimed the child had been found today in a locked sedan in an obscure corner of a school lot.

AUTO IN 'HOCK' FOR $25 FINE

William Hayden, of Oakland, arrested April 14 on a charge of reckless driving by El Cerrito traffic officers, was given "another chance" by Police Judge J. F. Plank in El Cerrito last night.

Hayden first pleaded guilty to the charge on April 12, and was given the alternative of paying a $50 fine or spending 50 days in the county jail. Later the fine was reduced to $25 on the plea of Mrs. Hayden, according to Judge Plank.

Hayden promised to pay the fine and left his car at an El Cerrito garage as security.

Nothing more was heard from him, according to police.

Yesterday Hayden called the garage man and wanted to know if he could get his car when he came to El Cerrito. Two policemen met him at the garage yesterday morning and placed him under arrest.

Last night Hayden promised to pay the fine immediately. But his car is still being held.

Martinez School Bonds Win 6 To 1

MARTINEZ, Oct. 30.—By a vote of 1230 to 204, more than six to one, Martinez citizens today voted to issue $240,000 in bonds for the construction of a new junior high school.

The new school would relieve the crowded conditions at the Alhambra high school where more than 550 pupils are enrolled in a building originally constructed to take care of 400 pupils.

Driver Escapes Injuries In Crash

K. A. Leonard, of Roseville, escaped death or serious injuries last night when his machine collided with a car being driven by Henry F. Wagner, of Crockett, near the El Cerrito city hall last night.

Leonard, when attempting to pass Wagner's car who was attempting to pass him, police reports state, Leonard's car was overturned and completely wrecked.

Leonard, according to police, is a one-armed driver.

French Coast Hit By Heavy Storms

HAVRE, France, Oct. 30.—UP—Storms raged the French coast today. The tugboat Tourbillon was searching for an Italian boat that sent out S. O. S. calls last night.

CAREER OF CHORUS GIRL ON BROADWAY REVEALED IN STORY

In days of old, in the days of '49, the bearded miner shouldered his pick, took a hitch in his belt, and went out and prospected the hills in search of the yellow metal ore called gold.

Day after day he struggled against nature and the Indians, mining the precious metal at terrific risks.

But the exploits of these miners pale to insignificance alongside the "mining" of the modern gold digger of Broadway.

As the hour of midnight approaches, the modern "miner" adds an extra touch of rouge to her lips, lights a cigaret and sallies forth into the great white way, in search of the elusive male with a full pocketbook.

As the dawn breaks, the "miner" returns to her flat, leaving the male with an empty pocketbook but sadder and wiser.

Around these modern "miners" who have been named "gold diggers," Eve Bernstein has written a story, full of humor, heart interest and revealing keen search-

High Pupils Told Of Opportunities

Modern youth faces greater opportunities than were ever before. The sources of success, in God's opinion, a college education is second only to hard work in becoming successful in any line of work. He emphasized health as the third requisite. He urged his listeners to use their spare time in gaining further knowledge by reading the right kind of literature.

Good emphasized the value of specialization, contending that demand for specialists is becoming greater with the growth of new manufacturing methods and a crowded field.

He urged, in conclusion, that the youth of today work toward serving their fellow men rather than toward personal gain.

Good was introduced by B. X. Tucker, principal of the Richmond Union high school.

Plans Complete For Armistice Ball

Plans for the American Legion Armistice Ball to be held in the East Shore park, Nov. 9, have been completed according to George Tandy, chairman of the affair.

Music for the dance will be played by Denny Shaw and his orchestra, who have arranged special orchestration of the latest popular numbers for the occasion.

The dance is in celebration of the American Legion Eleventh Annual Armistice, and is the one big event of the year for the service men.

According to Tandy, who has been working hard as chairman of the dance, the ball in East Shore park is most adaptable for the ball, having a smooth floor and providing ample room for a large crowd to dance.

Advance ticket sales for the occasion indicate that the Legion will be aided by the citizens of Richmond in putting the dance over.

Record Cargo Will Leave Inner Harbor

The Karl-Skogland, a Norwegian freighter is expected to arrive in the inner harbor this morning and take on one of the largest cargoes to ever leave the port of Richmond.

The cargo will total about 8,000 tons of asphalt, and represents about 165 cars of freight, which have been arriving at the inner harbor for the past several days.

A large force of men have been at work and when the cargo is ready for the freighter, the entire floor space of the city of Richmond section of wharf facilities will have been covered.

The asphalt is put up in drums and barrels and will represent 27,000 pieces.

The Japanese freighter Rhinefume, which has been loading oil products for the east for the past two days, completed its cargo, and left yesterday morning at 6 o'clock.

Shippers are being made covetous with the new shipping facilities here. Fred D. Parr, head of the Parr Terminal corporation, stated last night that on account of the economies that can be effected in the handling of cargoes at the new wharf facilities, considerable expense can be saved to shippers.

"As a result of these conditions," said Parr, "much new business is being booked daily, which is very encouraging."

FIRE BURNS FOR 18 HOURS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 30.—Late tonight one of the most disastrous fires in the history of Alameda was still gnawing through the Encinal Terminal per of the Alameda Packers association.

Firemen were tonight patrolling the pier to prevent another outbreak of the fire which has resulted in an estimated $500,000 loss and injuries to 22 persons.

The fire tonight had been burning more than 18 hours, stubbornly resisting efforts of firemen from Alameda, San Francisco and all sections of the bay region.

and Feet Burned

Eight hundred feet of a 1200-foot dock have been destroyed, and fears were expressed that the terrific heat might crumble the concrete foundation of the warehouses adjoining the dock. A loss of $2,500,000 warehouse suffered if the two warehouses toppled into the estuary.

The fire fighters efforts to combat the conflagration were seriously hampered by the dense clouds of smoke which soared forth from the creosoted piles.

HOLMES FINED $500 FOR RUM

For the second time within a month, Martin Holmes of the Regal apartments, 404 Twenty-third street, appeared before Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday and was found guilty of illegal possession of liquor. Holmes was fined $500 yesterday.

On Oct. 16, Holmes was arraigned for the first time, pleaded guilty, and was fined $400. On this occasion, police records show they found a large quantity of illicit liquor in his apartment.

On Oct. 27, police again reported finding a small quantity of liquor in a raid on Holmes' apartment on Twenty-third street. He was again arrested on a liquor possession charge, and was fined $500 on this charge yesterday.

$125 Collected In Police Court

Fines totaled $125 in the court of Police Judge J. F. Plank in El Cerrito last night.

E. E. Green paid the largest fine of the evening: $25 on a charge of reckless driving.

Others fined were Thomas Sargeant, speeding $10; W. W. Lawrence, speeding $10; J. W. Houston, speeding $10; J. Howdesh, speeding $10; H. J. Baker, speeding $10; G. H. Johnston, speeding $10; M. K. Crane, speeding $10; B. T. Long, illegal lights $5, and B. H. Brown, speeding $10.

High Chemistry Classes Visit Pittsburg Mill

The steel mills of Pittsburg were visited by the chemistry classes of Richmond Union high school last night. The trip was under the direction of Charles Waugh and Francis Gilbert, members of the high school faculty.

The science classes are now studying the manufacture of steel as a part of their studies, and last night's trip was held in order to illustrate the manufacturing methods explained in the classroom.

THE WOMAN OF IT

BY MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1929
The Fordization of the Female

"THE name of the wage-earning woman—yes, and of the home woman—are you going to let Mr. Henry Ford get away with?" writes "Indignant." "What's the matter with Henry? Is he cross because, as Christine Frederick points out in 'Selling Mrs. Consumer,' women virtually forced him to doll up Model T into its transfiguration as Model A?"

It's not for us to name the inspiration of Mr. Ford's ideas about women, but as an expert on the subject he's an enormously successful manufacturer of automobiles. "Women," declares Detroit's leading citizen, in the interview mentioned by "Indignant," "are a diminishing rather than an oncoming force in industry. As precision increases in industry, women will tend to decrease and disappear because they are not precise and mechanically minded. They have not the patience to make or handle machinery and they have not the interest to develop in mechanical work."

"Women don't want to think of mechanical and industrial matters. They don't want to think much even in their home life. Generally speaking, even at home they don't want to make decisions. I suppose it is harder for women to make decisions in daily life because it takes experience to make decisions, and they haven't the experience."

"The mechanical age means the comfortable age. Women will be released from the drudgery they won't put up with any longer. American women must pay for their release from drudgery and they can pay in only one way—that is to study and work at their jobs of being better wives and mothers."

"I think the whole situation lies about like this: that men and women must learn to work together rather than each pull against the other as they do to-day."

WE REFUSE to grant, in the first place, that women as a sex are not mechanically minded. Some women (we happen to be one) are not. But we demand of Mr. Ford, if women are not good mechanics how have so many of them been running Ford cars all these years?—to say nothing of all the back-seat drivers? And look at the other women who run other cars—and boats—and planes—who not only run them but repair them! Consider the household machinery, electrical and otherwise, that women deftly manipulate!

As for handling machinery in industry, such machinery is all the time growing more foolproof. It requires monotonous motion, rather than highly trained skill. So, even if women were not mechanically minded, they should be fit to perform the innumerable, simple, repetitive processes of machine-tenders in modern quantity production.

THEN, you on earth except Henry Ford ever found the American woman averse to thinking and making decisions? What is the poor dear usually blamed for is her tendency to hog all the decisions—to rule the home and run husband and children according to her way of thinking. That's what she does nothing else but, if we may believe Count Keyserling, Louis Bromfield and indeed, our own eyes that have looked upon too many militantly decisive wives and mothers.

If Henry Ford really believes that the woman in the home shrinks from making decisions, all we can say is that Mrs. Ford must be a marvel of feminine tact, with a velvet glove at least an inch thick! As for women's being released from drudgery, that "comfortable age" is even now coming to pass for many women without young children. But why say that such women must devote all their new free time to being wives and mothers? How can they—when the children have gone to school and their father to his office? Must the drudgery-ennamined woman settle down to eight hours a day of yogi-like contemplation of Better Wifehood and Better Motherhood?

Well, just watch the American woman doing it! Or, rather, watch what she is doing in business, in the professions, in the arts, in social service, in politics, with the time which she need no longer devote to the physical care of a large, old-fashioned, inconvenient house. If she has intelligence and a sense of balance, such outside activities make her a better because more interesting and alive woman in her home, as well as out of it.

FINALLY, what proof is there that men and women as a whole are pulling against each other to-day, that either sex is insisting on its rights at the expense of the other? Here, again, individual rebels are resisting individual tyrants. But surely the ideal of some feminists, of tolerant and woman-respecting American men, of husband and wife in the successful fitted partnership is the same: true partnership cooperation. That isn't going to be achieved by trying to rebuild the old wall between women in the home and men in the outside world.

Something tells us that Mr. Ford had better stick to the quantity production of Model A's and leave alone the duties, ideals and destinies of model American women.

OCTOBER AND MAY

We were to go we went dancing Down the main street of the town, Voices a-singing, eyes glancing, Swift feet and fluttering gown, Now we go steadfast and sober, Our eyes turn not out of their way, For this is in mournful October, And that was in May.

Dear lady, I thought you enchanting, A fairy, an elf of the air; My hot heart was terribly panting Because you were—fragile and fair. But now, when we meet, most sedately We smile and are off on our way, Not thinking October is greatly Cooler than May.

J. H. WALLIS

The injection of romantic love in marriage is depicted by Dean Percy G. Kammerer of Pittsburgh because it brings "confusion." But the marriage in which romantic love has not been injected may not even bring fusion!

TO HIM FROM HER

You told me I was kissable And lovable And I, aching with the beauty Of the moon and sky Believed you Now I know better, Yet do not blame you, For after all You meant it then, And perhaps you too Wish you would mean it now. But—oh, my dear, Don't say it again.

LUCILLE

WORDS FOR THE WISE WOMAN

"I have definitely taken a stand against long skirts for street and sports wear. The high waist can be attained without putting women to the torture of corsets. If corsets are essential then the fashion will be defeated. Style is based on common sense, and no woman is going to attempt to be beautiful at the cost of being ridiculous."—Captain Molyneux, famous French designer.

Ways of the Waistline

IT is important to know a few fundamental facts before one adopts the waistline in present fashions. Over-exaggeration is easily possible and is not in good taste. Designers have not revived the hour glass silhouette nor do they seem to have any intention to do so. The waistline should not be placed too high nor should it be confined too tightly. The correct interpretation of this new phase of the mode is a conservative one.

The greater part of the cranberry crop is being harvested this month. Perfect sweet berries reasonably priced are available for immediate and later fall use.

Later use means, of course, storing a way gloves of cranberry sauce and jelly upon the emergency shelf against the future. Omelets for Sunday breakfast, fruit salad, even tongue pie, cranberry sauce and even shortcake are possible with the tart sauce or jelly on hand. These foods take on a new interest when the cranberry is the red-giving element. An old-fashioned biscuit dough foundation is advisable for

Cranberry Shortcake

Two cups flour
Four teaspoons baking powder
One teaspoon salt
Two and one-half tablespoons shortening
One cup milk or water
One to two tablespoons melted butter
Baking time: fifteen to twenty minutes in hot oven.
Plenty of cranberry sauce
Whipped cream or hard sauce.
Fruit: one cup cranberry sauce is enough for two cups of water with one and one-half to two cups of sugar

CHIC FALL ACCESSORIES

TWO distinctively new types of gloves are being shown by Maggy Rouff and Worth. The former, pictured at the left, is of beige kid with elaborate applique border in brown. The Worth creation is a suede pull-on with gold cuff-links fastening its studded wristband. Very chic is the collar made of a lovely Appenzeller handkerchief, with borders of navy, heliotrope and white. Old fabric combinations are used for fall boutonniere—chartruese leather with black felt at the upper left, and wooden leaves with chenille blossoms at the lower right.

"Before and After" A LITTLE parable about a lady who reduced. Her husband—a painter of the old school—thought her figure pretty close to perfect. But her "dearest friend"—and her thinnest—came back from Paris with a yarn about how lean all the mannequins were. And she, in turn, considered a certain reducing medicine used by these ladies whose figures make their fortunes.

That was enough for our heroine. She had to have those capsules—at any cost. (They cost her husband's love.) What they eventually cost the lady herself, she couldn't tell. Well, to shorten the tale, she got thin. So thin that she had to have an entire new wardrobe. So changed that people who saw her every week of her life began telling her "My dear, I shouldn't have known you—!" So changed in face and form and disposition that her husband became first alarmed and finally disgusted. To-day, my darlings, she is in a sanatorium, this reduction fiend, guzzling milk, eggs and all the sweets and starches on the menu. And how her husband avoided being committed to an insane asylum, only his best friend could tell you. Taste reduced all right. She reduced herself to a rag and a bone. She reduced her husband's love almost to nil. And she reduced her spirits to the point where chronic melancholia begins. Now if this sounds like propaganda against reducing medicines, we don't mean it. If propaganda at all, it is directed against ailly, stupid, harmful reducing of any sort. As a matter of fact, there are in the world two or three brands of reducing pellets which are little short of marvels and as harmless as, well, pure water. Much as we should like to, we are not at liberty to divulge their names, though. No, not even in a private letter to you. So please don't ask us to, will you?

There are remarkable reducing baths, too, which we wish we had permission to tell you the names of. However, here's a hint: Ask your family physician. If you are a sensible woman and not a flibbertigibber like the heroine of our parable to-day, you will not so much as consider reducing your weight without first consulting your physician. For strenuous exercises may possibly affect your heart, and only heaven knows what thinning diets may do to your blood.

We have a REDUCTION LEAFLET here if you care to have it. And it is all yours for a stamped return envelope mailed to us, care of The Evening World. BUT we caution every reader of it against starting the regimen without a preliminary chat with the doctor. After all, he knows best.

The World's Window

Bad Conscience Hebron in Judea, where the worst massacre took place, has the cave of Macpela, the grotto which Abraham bought at a stiff price from the Canaanites thousands of years ago for a burial place for Sarah, his wife, and where he himself was later buried, and also his son Isaac and his grandson Jacob. The Moslems, who are also descendants of Abraham, of course, have built a mosque over the graves. No Jew was ever permitted to enter, although exceptions are made in the case of harmless-looking Christians, as the writer on a previous visit to Palestine. After the Hebron massacre the Hebrew poets in Palestine, seizing upon the historic association between Abraham's time with the recent events, invoked the phantoms of the Patriarchs in their poems published in the newspapers. "Mother Sarah," exclaimed one poet, "How could you sleep when your children were slaughtered?" Others invoked Abraham and Jacob. The extraordinary part of it all is that the Moslems, who must have got wind of this, dread to approach the Patriarchal graves, fearing that the phantoms might actually arise and avenge the innocent blood of Hebron. And some Arabs actually maintain that they will not go near the Mosque because of the terrible moan that comes from the crypts beneath, where the "fathers" and "mothers" are buried.

In Hebron Arab propaganda about Jewish provocations in Palestine falls completely flat before the occurrence in Hebron and Safed. In these towns the Jews that were murdered certainly were not new Jews, or political Jews, as they call the Zionists who have the vision of a Jewish state at the back of their heads. They were old inhabitants, descendants of residents who have been in Palestine since the days of the Crusades. For there were always Jews in Palestine. Then there were young yeshiva boys, students of the Talmud-Torah school. All were ruthlessly slaughtered. I walked about the rooms in the house of Rabbi Slonim where thirty Jews congregated on the night of the disturbance in the Hebron streets. The carnage and destruction were unbelievable. The ten-foot ceiling was bespattered with blood. Such a thing is conceivable in a fortress or a dug-out when a shell explodes in it, but no explosives were used in Hebron by the murderers. Just knives. The most ghastly pieces of evidence were still lying about. The blood-soaked clothing and the floor like that (a slaughter-house). (Copyright, 1929)

IMPORTANT rum rings now have their own fleets, broadcasting stations and banking connections to finance booze. With all the accoutrements of big business, bootlegging has arrived as a major industry at last.

Scene: Private office of a rum baron. The chief sits at a mahogany desk with telephones, buzzers, files maps and push pins all about. The chief presses a button to summon the Vice President in Charge of Financing Gin.

VICE PRESIDENT—Did you ring, sir?

CHIEF—Yeah. How about that loan from the Sixteenth National Bank?

VICE PRESIDENT—Their loan committee was going to test our collateral this morning.

CHIEF—TEST it! All they got to do is TASTE it. You tell 'em that gin is the real McCoy and I want a ninety-day loan of $700,000 on it. Now, how's our relations with the Eureka Trust Company?

V. P.—Very good, sir. I deposited a sample flask with the receiving smellery and they acted favorably on the loan.

CHIEF—I heard their board of directors had a row at yesterday's meeting.

V. P.—Oh, it was nothing, sir. The Eureka Trust Company's board had seven sample cases of Scotch and Bourbon to pass on at yesterday's meeting. There wasn't any trouble except they demanded sterling silver corkscrews instead of gold pieces for directors' fees.

CHIEF—Well, I understand they had some sort of jam.

V. P.—Before the meeting broke up several of the directors climbed up on the chandelier and the Chairman busted an oil painting with his gavel, but the things happen at every board meeting now. It was nothing serious.

CHIEF—All right, then. Send in the Vice President in Charge of Radio Stills.

RADIO VICE PRESIDENT—Did you send for me, Chief?

CHIEF—Yes, Say, I listened in on ice.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

A FRIEND of mine who employs quite a number of people informs me that the trouble with most of the young help to-day is that they go through the day asleep on their feet. This, he tells me, comes from staying up late at night.

I did not ask him what the young folks of to-day do when they stay up late at night, but I just did a little thinking and as a result I offer this to those of you who are ambitious:

Why not work a bit harder than you are doing? Why not get to bed in decent time and keep your eyes open next day? If the majority of those who work to-day are asleep on their feet there should be a mighty peep chase for those who are wide awake.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE!

Old Time Hallowe'en Stunts

HALLOWEEN must have been just as gay a time a half century ago as it is to-day and the same stunts are popular now. Here are a few which grandma says the girls in her day tried at the parties:

They placed four bowls on the table, one containing (1) tea water, one with thick muddy water, one with a ring in it, and the fourth empty. The guest was blindfolded and led around the table once, then allowed to go alone and put the finger in a bowl. Clear water indicated a trip across the ocean, muddy water signified misery and divorce, the ring promised marriage and the empty bowl single blessedness.

To find out the reason for marriage the contestants tried to blow out a lighted candle through a funnel of paper. Three blows were allowed. If the first blow extinguished the candle the contestant would marry for life. If it required two blows to put out the candle it showed the contestant's future partner would be selected because of physical beauty, and the guest who had to blow three times to succeed would let money decide his or her future fate. If the candle still burned after the three attempts it indicated that the unfortunate contestant would make a "spite" marriage.

The hostess would place two chestnuts close together on the hearth burning them for a couple of hours. If they roasted without moving the road of true love would be smooth; if they popped and jumped apart a "lover's quarrel" was to be the sad fate of the couple named.

Parting apples in one continuous piece and tossing this paring over the left shoulder was a favorite stunt, just as it is to-day, because it is sure to form the initial of the future life-mate's name.

Tailored Raincoat

A adorable raincoat is made of a svelte blue. It has all the swagger of the smart sports coat, and indeed may be worn as one. The belt is placed slightly higher than ordinary. Just below the pockets have zipper fastenings.

The coat uses buttons for closing, however, which end about a half and a half above the hem, riding the line of that "rough weather" look. The standing collar has a tailored bow in front and the lapels are buttoned over, all the way to the top or turned back to form a vestee effect.

TELLING THE WORLD

IMPORTANT rum rings now have their own fleets, broadcasting stations and banking connections to finance booze. With all the accoutrements of big business, bootlegging has arrived as a major industry at last.

Scene: Private office of a rum baron. The chief sits at a mahogany desk with telephones, buzzers, files maps and push pins all about. The chief presses a button to summon the Vice President in Charge of Financing Gin.

VICE PRESIDENT—Did you ring, sir?

CHIEF—Yeah. How about that loan from the Sixteenth National Bank?

VICE PRESIDENT—Their loan committee was going to test our collateral this morning.

CHIEF—TEST it! All they got to do is TASTE it. You tell 'em that gin is the real McCoy and I want a ninety-day loan of $700,000 on it. Now, how's our relations with the Eureka Trust Company?

V. P.—Very good, sir. I deposited a sample flask with the receiving smellery and they acted favorably on the loan.

CHIEF—I heard their board of directors had a row at yesterday's meeting.

V. P.—Oh, it was nothing, sir. The Eureka Trust Company's board had seven sample cases of Scotch and Bourbon to pass on at yesterday's meeting. There wasn't any trouble except they demanded sterling silver corkscrews instead of gold pieces for directors' fees.

CHIEF—Well, I understand they had some sort of jam.

V. P.—Before the meeting broke up several of the directors climbed up on the chandelier and the Chairman busted an oil painting with his gavel, but the things happen at every board meeting now. It was nothing serious.

CHIEF—All right, then. Send in the Vice President in Charge of Radio Stills.

RADIO VICE PRESIDENT—Did you send for me, Chief?

CHIEF—Yes, Say, I listened in on ice.

Adults, Too, Prefer "No Dosing" for Colds

Millions Adopt External Remedy Made Famous As Treatment For Children's Colds

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially have been quick to appreciate this better, external method of treating colds, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset the little ones' delicate stomachs. Year by year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds.

Just rubbed on Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and at the same time, it releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan, "Millions Use Vicks Yearly."

Later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Justice Is Not Blind!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Justice is no longer dispensed by ignorant and individual domination. Another ancient prejudice stands convicted by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE which insists that a jury "twelve good men, tried and true" decide the facts.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

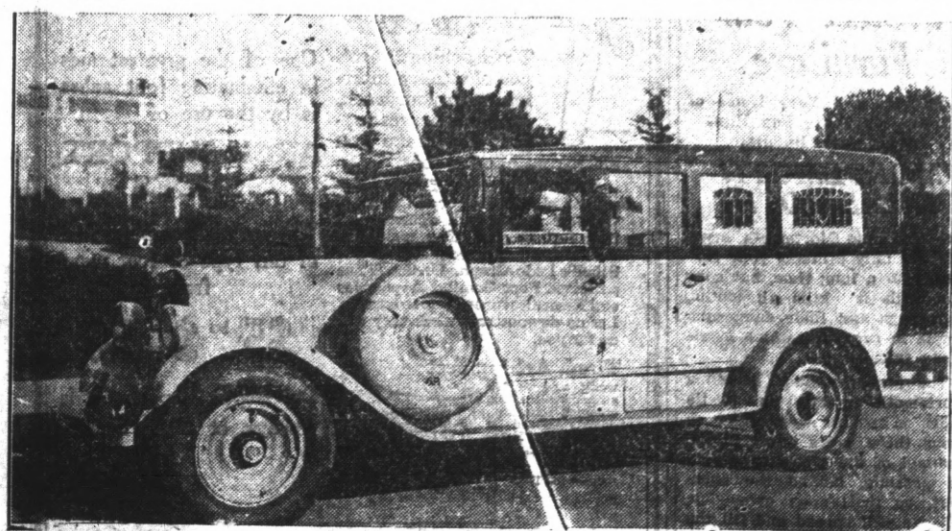

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

RECREATION! NINE PARKS- And Playgrounds For Richmond Children-

Plenty of Room For Clean Wholesome Play

Measuring up to modern development of recreation facilities, Richmond has nine public parks and playgrounds, and in addition maintains two municipal band stands where open air concerts are held during the spring and summer. Richmond is fortunate in having so large a number of splendid parks where men, women, and particularly children may enjoy themselves at almost all times of the year.

Compare Richmond to some of the large eastern cities where children are housed in tenement districts.

Richmond children have all the advantages that a city can possibly give them in the matter of recreation as far as parks are concerned. Our parks are well kept, are never over crowded, are inviting all year round, and children are safe from automobiles. The city invites its citizens to use these parks; they are for your benefit, for your family, for your recreation and health.

THE PARKS ARE FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THEM. IT COSTS THE CITY CONSIDERABLE TO MAINTAIN THEM — YOU SHOULD APPRECIATE THEM. THERE IS LOTS OF HAPPINESS TO BE FOUND IN OUR PARKS.

CALIFORNIA BEARS READY TO MEET TROY WARRIORS

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—The Golden Bears of California will enter their full strength against the Trojans of U. S. C. next Saturday when the two meet at the Los Angeles coliseum in one of the major football classics of the 1929 Pacific coast season.

Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price, head coach at the Berkeley institution today announced that he will take his entire varsity squad to meet the Trojan war horses. Price is taking no chances, and it is expected that the team in the early stages of the game the replacements—plenty of them—will be available. From that knowledge he can take a certain amount of comfort, for since the Olympic Club game last Saturday the Bears reserves are known to be strong, whereas before that game the chief weakness ascribed to the California grid force was that they lacked men to replace starters or injured varsity players.

With the exception of Jack Benedetti, end who cracked his collar bone in the Olympic Club game last week, the entire varsity squad of 50 men will make the trip. This organization will give the Bears a reserve strength of almost three complete teams—nine ends, eight tackles, eight guards, three centers, two quarterbacks, fourteen halfbacks and three fullbacks.

First Team

In all probability, the Golden Bears' first string line that has borne the brunt of the heavy duty in most of the games this season will start the game. Less definite is current information about the probable starting backfield. Lee Elisan is too seasoned a field general to be missing from the quarterback post in this game, and heading Henne Loom will start at left half. Ed Griffiths, the sophomore back who came into the limelight in sensational fashion in the Penn game, will probably start with Lom.

Fullback is the point in the Bear backfield concerning which there is the most question. Joe Hickinbotham, somewhat inexperienced but a line plunger after Price's own heart, is at present the favorite to start with Ruston "Rusty" Gill, third of the football house of Glills, ready to take his place if necessary. Gill demonstrated considerable dash in his performance last week, and Bear followers are still talking about the latest discovery among the Price string of fullbacks. The situation is still further complicated by the fact that "Moose" Garrity, hard hitting veteran, may be re-vamped into a halfback. The move, however, is understood to be strictly experimental, and if the change is not outstandingly successful, Garrity will return to his old position.

Bob Norton and Russ Avery at the flanks are ends to be reckoned with in any company. Norton reached top form in the Penn game, attracting the favorable comment of eastern critics. After a layoff of two weeks he should be raring to go, particularly since he will probably oppose Garret, Arbelbide of U. S. C., whose performance against Stanford has been pronounced outstanding in a game where ends were all-important.

Starting Lineups

Dolph Timmerman and Ted Becker, two formidable tackles, Joe Pinto and Bert Schwarz, stalwart guards, and Captain Roy Riegel, center, will have ample opportunity to shine if the Bears are forced into a tight pocket. These five are the key of the California defense, and they have been well schooled. Riegel earned a first-class ticket among centers by his stellar play against Pennsylvania and Pitt and Schwarz likewise covered themselves with glory—something that linemen rarely has an opportunity to do.

As far as weight is concerned, California will give the Trojans a slight edge in both line and backfield. In the line the Bears average 191 pounds, six pounds to the man lighter than U. S. C. In the backfield the northerners average 180, one pound lighter than the Trojans.

Ted Jernigan, Jack Beasley Bout Attracts

Considerable interest is being aroused by the heavyweight battle between Ted Jernigan and Jack Beasley tomorrow night at El Cerrito.

Although Beasley will outweigh and probably outslug Jernigan, Ted's superior defensive fighting will make the fight a classic for El Cerrito. The fight is scheduled for ten rounds or less.

Local Man Hurt By Street Roller

A fractured leg and wrist were suffered by Michael Kratzer, 40, of Richmond, when he attempted to crank a street roller in Berkeley recently. Kratzer was hurled about five feet in the air when the engine kicked after he spun it. He was taken to the Berkeley General hospital, where he was treated.

Guest Artists At Longfellow

The guest artists at the noon concert of the Longfellow Junior high school today will be Mrs. Earle Scofield, soprano, and Mrs. Myrtle Smith, pianist. According to Miss Marie Landry, who is in charge of the program, it will start at 12:15 and is open to the public.

YOUNG NAMES STATE FARM BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Governor Young today announced his appointments to the new State Board of Agriculture, consisting of nine members, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the needs of the farming industry in this state, and the functions of the Department of Agriculture in relation thereto.

The president of the board is to be the president of the State Agricultural society, which has charge of the state fair. The other eight members are to be appointed by the Governor.

The act creating the board provides that no more than one member shall be appointed from any one Congressional district or from any one county; and further provides that each member shall represent a distinct branch of agricultural industry.

In naming this board, Governor Young issued the following statement:

"I have exercised more than ordinary care in the appointments I have made to this State Board of Agriculture, since I have been exceedingly anxious that it shall be fairly representative of the whole state, and of all our agricultural interests. It is no small task to select such a group of men. California has many agriculturists who are worthy of a place on this board, but a large number of these are necessarily eliminated by the language of the act, which permits no more than one member from any Congressional district, county, or specific agricultural activity.

Names Board
"The board which is herein named is composed of well-known leaders in California agriculture. As far as possible it is representative of all agricultural groups, and as a whole furnishes a very excellent cross section of this business industry of our state. I believe that this board will perform a wonderful service in helping to strengthen and stabilize that industry."

Following is the list of this new board, with a statement of the district and the special agricultural activity of each of its members:

"At large and as President, Robert A. Condee of Chico, San Bernardino County. Condee has for a long time been head of the California Junior Republic, an agricultural school for boys. As President of the State Fair Board for a number of years, has been very largely instrumental in the success and upbuilding of California's state fair. Few men in public life command greater confidence than he."

"First Congressional District (11 counties), E. L. Adams of Chico, Butte County, representing field crops. As President and General Manager of the Rice Growers' association, has done much to stabilize the rice industry in California. He has had experience with in the United States Department of Agriculture in the Division of Field Crops, and will be of great value in the solution of field crop problems."

"Second Congressional District (16 counties), J. A. Irving of Placerville, El Dorado County, representing Deciduous Fruit. President of the Placerville Fruit Growers' association and for seven years president of the El Dorado County Farm Bureau, secretary of the California Fruit Exchange. One of the outstanding deciduous fruit growers of the state, and especially familiar with eastern marketing conditions."

U. C. Man
"Third Congressional District (6 counties), A. T. Spencer, of Woodland, Yolo County, representing Sheep and Livestock. Chairman of the Sacramento Valley Regional Agricultural Committee of the State Chamber of Commerce. Member of the Board of the Giannini Foundation of the University of California. Former President of the California Wool Growers' association. Everywhere recognized for his great service to the livestock interests of the state and nation."

"Congressional Districts 4, 5, and 6 (2 counties), C. E. Gray of Oakland, Alameda County, representing Agricultural Economics. Gray has established a reputation in agricultural economics which is more than national wide. President of the Golden State Milk Products company. Former Chief of the Division of Dairying of the United States Department of Agriculture. Also a member of the Board in the University of California Giannini Foundation."

"Seventh Congressional District (7 counties), Frank T. Elliott, of Collier, Tulare County, representing the Grape Industry. Formerly President of the Tulare County Farm Bureau Federation, and in close touch with farming conditions throughout the San Joaquin Valley. In 1928 Elliott gained wide reputation when he personally took to the Orient a shipment of his own products, and by disposing of them at the various ports where he touched, definitely established the possibility of new markets for California agriculture."

"Eighth Congressional District (8 counties), A. C. Hardison, of Santa Paula, Ventura County, representing Walnuts and Citrus Fruits. Director of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, probably the most successful agricultural marketing organization in the world. Former President of the California Farm Bureau Federation, Director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and one of the best-known of all California agriculturists."

L. A. Appointment
"Congressional Districts 9 and 10 (1 county), Merritt H. Adamson, of Los Angeles County, representing the Dairy Industry. Founder of the Adair Stock Ponds at Van Nuys, the largest certified dairy in the United States. Widely recognized as a leader in the dairy industry, besides being largely interested in beef cattle and swine. Is making a most valuable contribution to the livestock industry in his breeding and showing of purebred dairy cattle and thoroughbred horses."

"Eleventh Congressional District (7 counties), A. B. Miller, of Fontana, San Bernardino County, representing Swine and Beef Cattle. Owner of one of the most extensive hog and beef feeding establishments in the county. As President of the Fontana Farms company, has had extensive experience in building up of successful small farming units. Is ranked as one of the foremost agriculturists and livestock men of California."

"I feel that California agriculturists to be congratulated in the personnel of this board. Without question it will be of exceedingly great value in bringing to the agricultural officials of the state the needs of the farming industry, and in assisting to put into effect those regulatory and service measures best designed to remedy the ills from which agriculture has been suffering."

Rifle Club Girls Make Good Scores

Two Richmond girls last night started on the road to marksmanship records when they fired on the sub-calibre range of the Junior Rifle Club.

The two girls, Jennie Starke and Esther Miller turned in an excellent score, according to M. J. Ljutic, director of the club. Ljutic lauded the club for its work, declaring that it is now successfully organized and ready to carry on a program.

Thomas Motor Nine To Play San Pablo Team

A fierce contest is expected to be held when the San Pablo nine and the Thomas Motors, both of local fame, meet Sunday on the San Pablo diamond.

There is great rivalry between these teams, who are ranked as two of the fastest squads in this district. A record crowd of spectators is expected to be present.

Ball is scheduled to occupy the box for the San Pablos, with Rogers receiving, Taylor or Hurst will hurl for the Motors, with Borreani behind home plate.

San Pablo has a strong infield composed of: Church at first; Silva at second; Tierney at short; and Peters at third. Anderson, Gregory, and Wickes are included in the outfield lineup for the San Pablo squad.

The Thomas Motor players are known as hard hitters and clever fielders. They have proved worthy of this reputation by winning their first two contests in the Winter league, defeating the Marico Nordstrom Valves and Eagles No. 7.

Marvin Clark Yell Leader Aid At U. C.

Marvin P. Clark, former graduate of the Richmond Union high school, was recently elected as assistant yell leader of the University of California.

Clark was one of the two chosen from among ten candidates next year, but one competitor will be opposed to him for the honor of first yell leader.

Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark of 808 Thirtieth street, and is a junior in the university. His brother is George Clark, and has one of the highest scholastic records at the college.

Police Seek S. F. Theater Manager

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—UP.—Federal authorities were searching tonight for Alfred G. Wilkes, former manager of a theater here, charged with failure to pay $16,464 amusement taxes.

Boy Killed In Fall From Fence

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—UP.—Injuries received when he fell from a ten foot fence, resulted fatally for Clifford Rowe, 10, here today. The boy, a mute, was unable to call for help.

"The previous contacts and outstanding accomplishments of the members of this new state Board of Agriculture are such that they cannot fail to bring renewed confidence to our entire agricultural industry. They have generously consented to give freely of their time, with no compensation except the satisfaction of rendering service to their state."

U. C., TROJAN FROSH TEAMS TO MEET

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—The California freshman football team took a brace last week—and just in time as that, for after an early season marked by ragged play and a defeat or two the Bear babes are scheduled to meet this Saturday with the undefeated, unscored on 1929 yearlings of U. S. C.

The game is slated as a major event at the California Memorial stadium, starting at 2:30 o'clock while varsity teams of the two institutions are unraveling their classic dispute in the Los Angeles coliseum. Arrangements for announcement of the progress of the game in the southland at the Berkeley game are now being made by Jack F. MacKenzie, assistant graduate manager of the Associated Students.

Coach "Brick" Mitchell's men got off to a slow start this season, in spite of the fact that the material offered was pronounced excellent. Ragged play, costly fumbles and muffed tackles marred the Bear babes' record from the outset, but after slow development they emerged last Saturday, an almost finished team, to whip the tough 250th Coast Artillerymen 20 to 0.

The Tro-babes have come thru a season unusual for freshman teams, with their goal line uncrossed and a record of several impressive wins, notably their 13 to 0 victory over the Stanford freshmen two weeks ago. The state prison today may be the deciding factor in settling the championship of the "little big three."

Condemned Pair At Folsom Try To Attack Felon

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—UP.—Condemned to be hanged in January for the murders in the Thanksgiving day riots here two years ago, two convicts broke from their guards at Folsom state prison today and sought to harm another prisoner before they were subdued by penitentiary officials.

Walker Burke and Tony Brown, the rebellious prisoners, were being led from death row to the bath house.

"Let's go," Burke cried and Brown joined him in the break. Instead of heading for an exit they dashed into the hospital and armed themselves with knives from a kitchen leading Warden Court Smith to believe they wished to avenge a presumed wrong by some other convict rather than by some other convict rather than by some other convict.

Guards quickly closed in on them, Brown was subdued, when his arm was broken and a severe scalp wound made Burke give up.

Oakland Man Held On Wage Act Count

Arrested on the complaint of Grover C. Binkley of Richmond, Staley Sweet, 2601 Thirteenth avenue, Oakland, will appear before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom today on a charge of violation of the state pay day law.

Sweet was arrested last night and held in the city jail in lieu of $100 bail.

Oakland Attorneys Attacked By Women

OAKLAND, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Angered at a decision in Superior court, judging Adam Dacosta, alleged bank robber, sane, three women attacked Public Defender Willard Shea and Deputy District Attorney Leonard Meltzer here today. The women were Marie and Margaret Dacosta, Dacosta's sisters, and Estella Atkinson.

2 HELD ON GIRL DELINQUENCY CHARGE

Ray Palmer, oil worker and Alleen Lewis, owner of a hamburger stand on San Pablo avenue in El Cerrito, were held to answer to the superior court yesterday by Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 16 year old El Cerrito girl. Ball was set at $500.

Frank Smith, another named in the complaint as a member of the party alleged to have been staged at the Lewis store on Oct. 23, is being sought by police.

The two were arrested on the complaint of Carolyn L. Mosgaard of El Cerrito.

The arrest followed an alleged liquor party at El Cerrito.

Auto Damaged By Street Car

While making a left turn from Macdonald avenue onto Fifth street yesterday morning a car driven by Mrs. H. H. Zimmerman, 211 Seventh street, collided with a street car and damaged fenders and running board, according to police.

The crew on the street car was composed of J. E. Spoddy, driver, and M. R. Jones, conductor.

Letters Asked As Forerunner To Damage Suit

MARTINEZ, Oct. 30.—A petition was received today by the superior court from Mrs. Antonette Stottmeister, asking that she be appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Frank Stottmeister.

Stottmeister, according to the petition, was killed while unloading a gravel car in Oakland on June 28. In an effort to collect damages for the death of her husband, it is the intention of the administratrix to sue the Pacific Electric Railway, the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroad companies.

The widow and three children are heirs to the estate.

O. L. Phillips Sues For Divorce

MARTINEZ, Oct. 30.—Charging mental cruelty, Orren L. Phillips, of Richmond, today filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Annie Phillips. The couple was married in 1920, and separated yesterday, according to the complaint. The plaintiff is represented by C. D. Horner.

Stolen Auto Recovered Here

A small roadster, reported stolen from C. J. Miller Monday night, was recovered by police yesterday, on Sixth street near Enterprise avenue, where it had been abandoned. According to Miller, he had motorman and M. R. Jones, conductor, where it was stolen from.

22 INJURED IN ALAMEDA PIER FLAMES

control, the fire blazed up with renewed violence and sent hundreds of spectators scurrying away from the heat.

So dense was the smoke, that Fred Wescher, Alameda policeman, crashed through a burned section of the dock into the water. Wescher treaded water under the burning structure for some time, when he was rescued by a fellow officer.

The flames were fought both on land and water. The Denis T. Sullivan was among six fireboats brought from San Francisco to combat the blaze.

Firemen estimated that 100,000 gallons of water per minute were being poured on the conflagration but the crescented piling resisted all their efforts.

It was estimated tonight that $100,000 damage had been done to the pier alone. In addition to vast stores of dried fruits and other commodities in the warehouses being damaged by smoke and water. Fifty tons of fiberboard stored on the pier were also destroyed.

Further damage was averted by moving a long line of freight cars loaded with valuable goods away from the danger line.

Two vessels tied up at the pier, the K. I. Luchenbach and the Holland freighter Dinteldyk quickly shoved off into the stream.

While the Luckenbach was moving off an alleged mutiny broke out aboard the ship, during which L. E. Morton, quartermaster, is alleged to have attacked his first officer John Martins, with a knife.

Morton was turned over to local police, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Cowboy Pastor Answers Call

LONDESBOROUGH, Eng., Oct. 30.—(U.P.)—The Rev. Sir Genville Cave-Brown-Cave, known throughout the world as the "Cowboy Pastor," died today at the age of 60. He served in many wars for Britain and also on the Spanish-American war. He was a cowboy in America and became converted to evangelism by the Salvation Army in New York at the age of 42. His book, "From Cowboy to Pastor," became popular.

FIRST CHECKS RECEIVED BY RED CROSS IN FUND DRIVE

Although the official opening of the Red Cross roll call does not open until Nov. 11, checks have already been received by the local organization. The campaign will run from Nov. 11 to Nov. 28, inclusive.

The first check to be received came from the Healy-Thibbitts company, and was for $50.

The second check for $10 was sent in by M. M. Zoph, 1870 Capistrano Way, Berkeley.

The mass meeting of the Red Cross in Richmond, Tuesday night will be attended by two prominent figures in National Red Cross work. The meeting, which is open to the public, will be sponsored by the local board of directors and officers, and will be held in the Memorial hall.

This meeting will assemble directors, officers and the newly appointed committees who will handle the forthcoming roll call. J. Arthur Jeffers, assistant national chairman and general manager of the Pacific coast area, will discuss national and international phases of the Red Cross.

STOCKS RALLY STILL HELPERS ON BUYING ORDERS

day for some time. They were joined by Owen D. Young, chairman of General Electric company and George F. Baker, Jr. The conference hinged on the advisability of closing the Exchange and the general market situation. Their expression at the close, given through Thomas W. Lamont, was that the market was acting distinctly better.

A small selling movement followed the decision to call a recess. When it appeared as if this selling might gain further headway, John D. Rockefeller, senior, gave out his statement the first public utterance of the kind in 18 years.

Rockefeller's Buy Rockefeller said he believed the fundamental conditions of the country were sound and that both he and his son had been buying good common stocks for the last two days, and that they would continue to buy them for investment.

Numerous other statements were issued throughout the day and several other developments of Bullish nature came out, but none had the force of the Rockefeller statement. It inspired additional buying and helped Bulls stage their last minute demonstration.

The decline of more than 5,000,000 in volume of business was regarded as a favorable omen. It was said to indicate that the forced liquidation was over and that the market could not set about readjusting itself to new conditions. Traders were predicting a period of unsettlement followed by a quiet steady market for some weeks to come.

Fears Allayed

The rise today was brought about primarily as a result of the allaying of fears of the large and small speculators who were throwing stocks overboard at enormous sacrifices.

The gains brought the Dow Jones Industrial average up 28.40 points to 258.47 and the railroad average rose 5.60 points to 152.56.

In other markets prices also were higher, with the exception of coffee. That market broke nearly 200 points before a rally set in. It closed lower. Cotton gained $1 a bale and grains advanced sharply especially wheat. Call money ruled at 6 percent, the slightly stiffer rate being due to month-end demand for currency a temporary condition.

S. F. STOCKS IN RIG RALLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—UP—Stock of the Transamerica corporation bounced upward today on the San Francisco Stock Exchange, closing at 47, which was eight points above the final figure Tuesday.

At one time during the day it had reached 50, which was approximately 12 points below the mark it had held before the big break Tuesday. Other leading issues of the local Exchange also rallied.

The services for the girl, who was named Mary Anne Lewis will be private.

Limperes Trial Again Postponed

MARTINEZ, Oct. 30.—The trial of Nick Limperes, accused of setting fire to his restaurant on Macdonald avenue in Richmond to collect insurance, was today continued until Nov. 7 by Superior Judge H. V. Alverado. The delay was caused by the inability of Limperes' attorney to be present today when the trial was scheduled to begin.

Native Sons At Business Session

A short business meeting was held by the Richmond Native Sons last night in Redmen hall. James N. Long presided over the meeting.

MIXED

CUTS FUEL COSTS

Beginning November 1st, all customers in San Francisco and East Bay Cities will be served a new gas fuel of greater heat content. In addition we are now offering a new optional combination rate for house heating, cooking and water heating.

New Heating Rate

Our new domestic heating rate is designed to encourage a general use of gas for house heating. The new gas with this low rate now makes gas fuel very economical. Thousands of homes that have heretofore been without this clean, quick, and carefree fuel for heating will now find it advantageous to install modern gas heating equipment. Consumers now using modern gas heating equipment will find it more economical.

Straight Natural Gas Soon

Straight-natural gas will be served in the spring of next year, upon the completion of the second pipe line from the gas fields. Natural gas has two times as much heating value as manufactured gas.

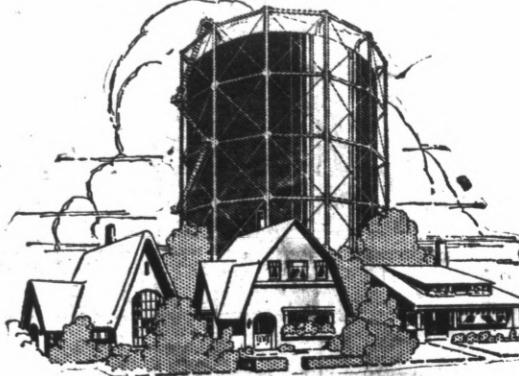

Gas-Fired Heating Ideal

And the immediate slash in price alone is not the whole story. For gas-fired heating, in addition to its low cost, is convenient, carefree, and the clean type of heating. Those customers interested in house heating equipment should call at our local office, or write or telephone and we will send a representative.

Apply for Rate Now

Customers now using gas for house heating should apply for the new optional rate at once.

Gas is cheaper—you can use more of it
